

MATS Monitoring & Reporting Workshop

Dallas, Texas - May 9, 2017

Do you still have MATS questions?

The Mercury and Air Toxics Standards (MATS) Rule imposes an array of testing, monitoring, and reporting requirements on utility sources. Sources may use different options to comply with the various limits. However, the variety of these choices, exacerbated by unclear rule language and limited guidance from the Agency, can make it difficult to understand what may be required in different situations. Understanding the MATS requirements is further complicated by on-going rule revisions, particularly the proposed changes to the electronic reporting requirements.

To help you better ensure MATS compliance, RMB is conducting a one-day workshop that will focus on frequently asked questions and questions related to monitoring or reporting for unusual situations. The workshop will encourage the exchange of information and experiences among participants. The topics will include:

- PM CEMS and Hg Monitoring
- Stack Testing Requirements
- Boiler Tune-up Frequency
- Documentation & Recordkeeping
- Startup/Shutdown Provisions
- Emission Calculation Details
- MATS Reporting Requirements
- Updates on MATS Rule Revisions

The MATS Monitoring & Reporting Workshop will be held at the Dallas Sheraton Hotel on Tuesday, May 9, 2017 (8:30am - 4:00 pm) in conjunction with the EPRI CEM User Group Meeting, which starts the following day at the same location. The cost to attend the MATS Monitoring & Reporting is $450 and includes a workshop manual, coffee breaks, and lunch. The registration fee does not include travel costs or hotel accommodations. Use the following form to register for RMB's MATS Monitoring & Reporting Workshop.

Go to <http://www.cvent.com/d/0vqv40> for more information on hotel accommodations and the EPRI CEM Users Group Meeting. Please note that the EPRI CEM User Group Meeting and RMB's MATS Monitoring & Reporting Workshop are separate events.
